Florida Future Educators of America (FFEA)

Florida Department of Education

Who we are

Since 1986, the Florida Department of Education has provided assistance to schools in starting and maintaining chapters of Florida Future Educators of America (FFEA), pre-collegiate and collegiate teacher recruitment programs. The program provides a forum for students to become aware of career opportunities in education and nurtures their interest in teaching as a career. The program also provides an avenue for collegiate members to stay informed of the latest issues and advancements in the education profession. The program is administered through local school chapters at all grade levels - elementary through postsecondary. A teacher or faculty advisor is required to provide the leadership for each chapter.

Coming together

Each year, the Department coordinates state conferences for postsecondary chapters and senior high student members and their advisors. The department also provides promotional materials to support the advancement of the FFEA Program. The Florida Education Foundation facilitates these conferences and provides necessary fiscal oversight.

Establishing a Chapter

Persons interested in establishing a chapter may contact the Bureau of Educator Recruitment and Professional Development for a start-up kit. Students interested in joining FFEA should check with their school to determine whether a chapter has been established locally.
